Flower, Fun and Fancy

With Tony Todesco

November 2nd at 10:00 AM

At The Boys and Girls Club of Greater Derry
40 Hampstead Rd., Derry, NH

Legendary floral designer Tony Todesco will bring his creative use of plant material and technical knowledge to bear when he presents “Flower, Fun and Fancy,” a design demonstration of both traditional and unique floral designs. Attendees will see why Todesco not only interprets design trends, but helps creates them. Those who participate in the raffle at the end of the program may even have an opportunity to take a Todesco design home with them.

Todesco, founder and owner of Stow Florist/One Main Street Studio in Stow, Massachusetts, is a sought-after designer, lecturer, and commentator who has presented to civic organizations, design groups, and garden clubs at the state, national and international level. He has designed and commented for trade shows, and promoted the use and enjoyment of flowers on television. He has presented design programs at numerous museums, most notably The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, where his large-scale designs are exhibited regularly, and The Minneapolis Institute of Art.

Among Todesco’s many accomplishments are set design and staging for flowers shows, including The Massachusetts Horticultural Societies’ New England Flower Show. He is proud to be a National Garden Club (NGC) Master Flower Show Judge, and he served on the NGC’s Flower Show Committee as new design development chair. He developed and introduced five new design types, which are included in the NGC’s Handbook for Flower Shows and is also seen in the Designing by Types publication. He is currently a design consultant for the NGC’s Flower Show Schools Committee.
